

Chapter 2 Review

How do you begin the problem-solving process?

Problem-Solving

Answer:

How do you begin the problem-solving process?

(3)

Analyze the Problem in Detail

Analyze what is wrong
Analyze what is right

WEBSHOTS

How do you end the problem solving process?

Problem-Solving

Answer:

How do you end the problem solving process?

What is the step of the process that you complete twice?

Answer:

What is the step of the process that you complete twice?

- Desk-check the algorithm

Why is output usually identified first?

Answer:

Why is output usually identified first?

Because it is the goal of the program.

Output

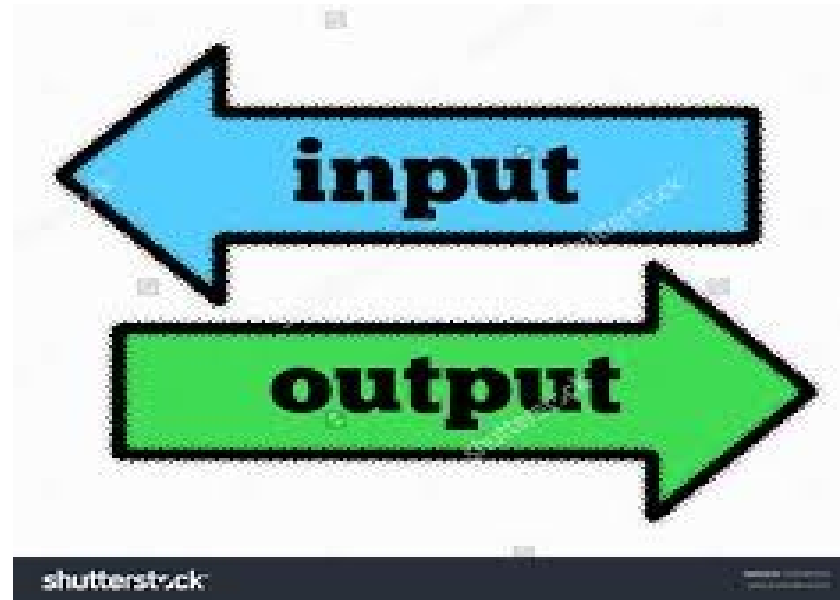

- Is Displayed, Printed or Stored in a file

What is input?

Answer:

What is input?

- The information will the computer need from the user to create the output.

What is a processing item?

Expedited Processing

Answer:

What is a processing
item?

- A variable that is not entered by the user or displayed to the user. It is only used in the program for calculations or processing of data.

Algorithms

Flowcharts

